6 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
7 NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

8 RUSSIAN RIVERKEEPER,

No. C 07-5393 MHP

9 Plaintiff,

10 MEMORANDUM & ORDER

11 v.

12 PACIFIC STATES INDUSTRIES INC., et al.,

Re: Plaintiff's Motion to Show Cause and Defendants' Motion for Rule 11 Sanctions

13 Defendants.
14 _____/

15 On September 3, 2008, this court approved a consent decree negotiated between plaintiff
16 Russian Riverkeeper and defendants. Docket No. 33. This decree allows plaintiff to conduct yearly
17 site visits of the defendants' sawmill.

18 In its motion to show cause, plaintiff contended that paragraph 17 of the decree allows the 19 presence of plaintiff's counsel during the site visit. Docket No. 36. During the March 15, 2010
20 hearing on this motion, the court held the following: 1) Riverkeeper's water quality engineer is the 21 sole person who may conduct the site visit; 2) no attorneys fees are warranted; 3) plaintiff to
22 reimburse defendants $2,346.25—the expert fees incurred by defendants for the January 2010 site
23 visit; and 4) plaintiff has not forfeited its right to the annual site visit.

24 Defendants have now filed a Rule 11 motion, based on identical facts, seeking attorneys' fees
25 and forfeiture of the site visit. They claim further remedies are warranted because plaintiff's motion
26 to show cause was intended to "harass and increase the costs of litigation . . . ." Docket No. 46 at 27 9:11-12. Defendants' filing of the request for Rule 11 sanctions, even though identical arguments
28 and remedies have already been rejected, undercuts their argument. The motion itself unnecessarily

1 harasses plaintiff and increases the costs of litigation. See id. at 9:1-3 (expending almost $4,000 to
2 file the motion for sanctions). The motion for Rule 11 sanctions is denied in its entirety. All parties
3 are warned against filing further unnecessary or frivolous motions.

4
5 IT IS SO ORDERED.
